Two years later, Maia wait Peter opening his arms. She runs towards him and love declaration. Peter kissing Maia and he's happy from the first look.

Unloved

by Ludivine BARTHOLOMEES

My love story was in summer and it's about a girl, she was an regular girl with short black hair, black eyes, she was short, the white skin with some cute freckles and a beautiful smile: it was Kimberly.

Kimberly aka Kimmy lived in Los Angeles in summer but she's was currently in Colorado for her studies. Kimmy studies the art of cooking because she's loved it since her childhood. But Kimberly didn't cook alone, she was cooking with her friend and his mom. Speaking about that, this boy:

This boy was a popular guy of America, he was Asian with red hair and black eyes, he has beautiful features of face. He was tall and cool. Many people like him for his voice when he singing and because he was handsome: It was Jackson.

Kimmy and Jackson were 15 years old when it happened, Jackson invited Kimmy and some friends at his house to chill. At all, they were 17 persons so it was a party! In secret, Kimberly and Jackson were in love but they didn't want to admit it to each other to keep them friendship. A few moments later, everybody were dancing, drunk and living her best life so Jackson wasn't so good so he asked Kimmy to help him. When they were alone, Jackson kissed Kimberly. Kimberly and Jackson didn't talk since this kiss because they were too embarrassed so they just ignored it until the end.

Kim went back home, said Hi to her family but she noticed her family didn't look so happy so she asked why:

Kim: "What's happened mom?"

Mom: "Hum, Kimmy... We need to talk about something."

Kim: "Alright, you scared me so say me everything."

Mom: "OK, so I know it's gonna be difficult for you to hear that but it's now or never. Your dad gonna be transferred into another working service so we have to live in Mexico..."

Kim: "Oh, hum... I don't know how to react, I've lived here since my birth, I've got everything here, and I have Jackson, how could I talk to him now? How could I see him now?"

Mom: "I don't know if you could see him again...I'm sorry."

Kim: "No that's fine, I understand, it's for business so I'm okay."

Mom: "Thanks, we have to go next week so start your bags."

Kim won't say to Jackson about her leaving because she's gonna be hurt in front of him so she decided to just live and say nothing...

La Vignasse

(Based on a true experience)

The story begins in Orthez. It was beautiful day and I was chatting outside with my friend Jules, it was just before we were at our work experience of four weeks. So Jules ask me if I want to go to his house during the summer holidays and I said “YES OF COURSE !!”, so when I went back to my house at the end of the day, I asked to my mom if I could go to Jules’s house! And she said “Yes no problem” so it was perfect and for now we had to wait four weeks to be together, so we waited!

4 weeks later

It was the day! This day, I just took the first train in the morning to be in Bordeaux at 10:00pm! I was really excited. We were so happy to be back together, and Jules asked me about something which is really exiting but really scary too. Jules lives close to the church of his little town, and next to the church in a little forest. There is a house. This house is totally abandoned, and sometimes people go there to visit it, explore it and take some pictures! This practice is called “Urbex” (Urban exploration), it’s when you explore an abandoned place for taking some pictures, but not to annoy people, neighbors or destroy the place. So, we went there in the afternoon, and in this house there all the things that you have in a normal house, like all the clothes, a TV, some big sofas, all the kitchen devices, some wine in the cave, a garage etc. But no one is living there. The family that were living here disappeared to nowhere. With Jules we decided to try and find who are the owner of the house. And we find it!! The owner is an architect because there are all his own plans, pencils, rules, a big drawing table, a lot of papers and a lots of others accessories. The owner name is “J.Bedochaud” and this is all that we know about this guy, but the stranger things about this story is that we don’t know what are become this family?! And what happens to themselves! Maybe it is a car accident, a pane accident? We don’t know.

This is such a really strange place to explore, the ambiance is so much ponderous and dark! There are some so old objects in the house. We still find a bottle of wine from 1960, this bottle is almost four times of my ages! This is incredible...

The Love of a Lifetime

by Orlane CORDONNIER & Dorine DUPRAT

My grandparents met during very cold winter in Aveyron. Just having finished her studies of teacher of French, my grandmother went to a village 30 km from her city to make a replacement of one week in a middle school where taught my grandfather, then teacher of history. For him, it was love at first sight.

The second day, he invited my grandmother to go out. At the end of the week, my grandmother had finished her replacement. She was back 30 km further, in her home town. The thing is, they had fallen in love.

Then, during 2 months, in spite of the cold, my grandfather drove these 30km on every Saturday to see his love, what was dared for time when they saw each other without being married. In Easter, he asked for her hand her father. On July 4th, they said yes in front of the altar.

Today, 63 years after, they love each other still tenderly, often kissing each other, making cuddles and especially taking great care of each other. Having divorced parents, it is their couple which served me as model and learnt to love. And I am eternally grateful to them for it.

Best Friends Forever

by Eva CUESTAS

At the time of one evening summer, during the festivals of Bayonne, a girl and a boy met, while they were with their groups of friends each one on their side. The boy was called Quentin, he had nineteen and the girl was called Justine, she had eighteen. The boy had brown hair and the green eyes, Justine had blond hair and blue eyes, she was soft in her way of looking,

Quentin decided to fetch a new glass and he seen Justine, and he wanted to invite Justine to have a drink except that Quentin was rather awkward, but he turned glass of Justine on her.

“Hey! But pay attention a little! My dress is very stained!”

“Oh really sorry.” He looked at it some second then “Why am I under the impression that we know?”

“I do not know. I am called Justine. And you, what is your first name?”

“Quentin. Excuse me to tell you that, but will we have a walk?”

“Yes, why not.”

Quentin and Justine take their glasses, and walked. They discussed heap of things together. It is as if they knew each other since always whereas that made even not an hour.

“Do you want to make an attraction?”

“I do not like attraction.”

“Come, that will be funny.”

He took the hand to him and took along it in the attraction, installed in the attraction. Quentin reassure Justine because he saw that she felt badly. The attraction started to take speed, then at the end Quentin offered a love apple to Justine. Justine proposed to share with Quentin, they located a bench and decide to sit and looked at the people went in front of them.

After five minutes without speech...

“Speak about you. Where do you live? What studies do you make? Where are you for your holidays?”

“I live in Anglet. I make a studies to become aesthetic trainer. When I was little with my parents we were spending all our holidays at Saint-Julien, there is a house of family over there.

Each summer towards the age of six-seven years I found my best friend. One day... his house was sold and I did not have news anymore.”

“Serious? Did you pass your holidays to Saint-Julien when you stay? Because also when old of six-seven years I had my best friend, and my house was sold!”

Justine had the tears with the eyes, when she learned that Quentin was “my best friend” who had moved. Then she took Quentin in her arms.

“I finally found you my best friend.”

“Here you are again.”

Then the two teenagers found each other every year at the same place.

Two teenagers in the mountain, they get friend. Until the summer they talk with social network, they get very good friends and after...

After two years I was in the mountain again! I had a lot of friends here, and I miss them when I'm not here.

It was a winter morning when I went out with my dog, her name was Oreo, she loves running and playing and she loves all the people. We were sitting with Oreo at the park when I saw the boy, he was tall, his hair was orange (the same colour as carrot) and his eyes, oh those green eyes! his smile was the most beautiful smile I ever saw.

At that moment Oreo ran away and she didn't listen when I calling her. The boy saw that and he took Oreo and he came at me with my dog.

- Hi, my name is Jack, I think that is your dog.
- Hi, I'm Andrea. Yes, she's Oreo, thank you.
- You live here?
- No, I'm here for the winter holidays.

That morning we spoke about our lives, we exchanged our numbers, but that was the first ant the last day that I saw Jack at the winter holidays. After that morning we chatting with social network every day and when he had the time he calling me.

At the summer holidays Jack and I went at the same beach with our families.

- Do you want to eat we me tonight?

That was the question to begin our love, thanks to Oreo.

Mickael

by Nadine GOMES MARQUES

It was a weekend in May, on holidays. We met by chance he was behind me. I turned around and by accident I spilled my ice on him, that day we spent the evening to get to know anything and everything. From this day spoke every day, we became best friends and we spent a lot of time together.

Then one day I proposed to him and to friends, went to the beach all together because the holidays was almost over. So we all went to the beach. We went to eat something because it started to get late, and then Mickael my best friend took me apart and told me:

“These necklace I offer you, I want you to know that every time you look at this necklace you think of me, and no matter where I am I’ll always be at your side.”

I was obviously very touched by these words, and I accepted his gift. And I promised him never to take off his chain. Then we joined the others in the water, suddenly a little cyclone appeared in the water, but it was not very far from him.

His brother and me left the help cyclone approaches more and more of him. So we tried to pull it with all our strength, the other began to leave otherwise they would die, his brother has end of force ended up loose, I had Mickael’s life in my hands, I started to have more strength. I try to hold as long as possible but was becoming more and more complicated. So he looking at me hand lose my hand.

Today I still wear his necklace to tell me that he is again with me, I still keep this guilt of not having managed to save him, every time I close my eyes I can see this image of him drowning. I keep in my heart this secret since many years, telling me that I saw my best friend dying in front of me and to be the main cause of his death. And until I die I will feel guilty, hate of sadness because that day my heart died with him.

Love Triangle

by Fiona GRIMARD & Brunissandre LARROQUE

Rayan lived in Florida, his house was close to the beach. Leila and her brother Brandon are from California and they came in Florida for few days in the summer with their parents.

One day, Rayan was coming to the beach with his friend and Leila, Brandon too. His friend see that Rayan was looking to Brandon and his sister, so they push him to talk to her. When she saw him, it was love at first sight but Rayan had already someone else in his heart.

So they all became friends and met to the beach and a friend of Rayan's proposed going to bowling the next day. They all accepted this idea.

In the bowling they made team of 3 persons. Rayan wanted to be with his new friend from California, the other team was Rayan's friends. Leila lied to Rayan when she said that she doesn't know how to play. His brother said that she was the best player of the family but she looked at him insistently to made clear that she wanted a moment with Rayan. So he took her hand to showed her how to shoot and that made her blush. Brandon found his sister ridiculous so he sent her to get drinks and be alone with Rayan. The two boys talked a lot, they had a lot in common and exchanged their phone numbers. When she came back with drinks it was time to go home so she was sad to have to leave Rayan because she really liked him.

Rayan and Brandon sent messages for two days and they became very good friends, so they decided to meet at the beach one evening because it was the last day of the summer holidays. But Leila saw this message on her brother's phone so she took the initiative to go out with them to saw Rayan.

That night, Rayan was waiting for his friends on the beach, but Leila arrived behind him and put hands on his eyes and she kissed him. But he thought it was Brandon so when he opened his eyes and saw Leila he was shocked. And that's when her brother came in and took Rayan's hand and explained that he was in love with Rayan and that he loved him too.

But the next day it was time for the two to return to California and said goodbye to the vacation love. At home Rayan and Brandon continue to talk with messages and Rayan speak to Leila too. They predict to see at next summer holidays.

Pierre and Lola

by Jules LASSEPT-CORNET

Two days later a new bus of teenagers arrived. Lola was part of this because she also felt very uncomfortable when arriving on the camp she did not make friends at once.

She spotted Pierre. He also spotted this girl. After the evening meal Pierre ended up going to talk to Lola. Pierre and Lola immediately felt together, Pierre and Lola staying together along the living room.

The last week the two lovers wondered how they were going to meet again after this holiday camp. Pierre was about to invite Lola to the restaurant. The same evening Pierre went to see Lola to offer her a meal. Lola was pleased with the proposal that Pierre had made.

Pierre dread this evening. He wanted to kiss Lola at the end of the evening, he was stressing because Lola was going to be his first girlfriend and this young man did not know how to take it with girls.

Pierre and Lola together took the direction of the restaurant. On the way they just laugh. The meal passed successfully, so the two teens decided to spend a moment on the beach together.

Pierre kissed Lola, delighted Lola and at the same time disappointed because these two will not be able to see each other again after this stay.

The last day arrived. Lola had to leave Pierre, obviously disappointed.

Love on the Slopes

by Enzo MARCOU

It was a day of February during the winter holidays in the ski resort of Barèges. While Alicia was happy at skiing with his friends, snowboarder collided Alicia. Alicia fell and tumbled down ten meters of ski run in all direction, she fell broken several times the bones during her fall and from her its stop she had hurt in the right leg and in the left shoulder. His friends call the first-aid workers quickly so that she goes be looked, the first-aid workers arrived or rather the first-aid worker because the ski resort are in lack of first-aid workers.

The first-aid worker arrived and began to put her in this sled to lower her except that love at first sight fell between Alicia and first-aid worker who is called Axel, at this very moment Alicia and Axel kissed on the ski run and Alicia is so much satisfy that she forgot her pain and concentrates on the kisses and thought of nothing else. Axel of taking his side finds that commonplace because that happens to him at last one tens of times by holidays. Alicia finds that very romantic because she had never managed to kiss a first-aid worker in the ski.

Axel found that commonplace at the beginning but after that the made think and he find that it is the first one that he does not want to leave any more a girl directly, he want to follow her in the ambulance, at the hospital to take care of her and make her happy to get married to her and to have children.

Alicia found that great at the beginning but at the end she realized that he broke her shoulder and that he put his knee on her leg and thus that he very hurt her. She put him a big slap and required another first-aid worker because that was really hopeless for her.

Axel by receiving this slap he was surprised and called one of his colleagues, his dreams were broken and he went back home sad with a work of hand on the face.

Better on my Own

by Estherfila NICERON

My name is Manon. I had a beach party last night with my summer friends. Lyn and I were in Maria's house getting ready for the bonfire. Thirty minutes later, in the car to the beach. Carl already made the firecamp. I met so many people and then I saw Tyler, my boyfriend. That was about to be really dope. Carl and I spoke about marshmallow 'cause we love to eat. Carl's been my best friend since for ever.

I got cold, Tyler was drinking with his friends far from me he didn't care about me and was drunk. I was thinking about the fact that I'd have to drive him home but he came with his bike, I can drive bikes, that wasn't the problem, I have one too but with a drunk person it's hard to drive. We found a solution later but at this time I needed a jacket. Hug, a boy I just met at the party, came right in time, before I fell in hypothermia and lent me his jacket. "What a gentleman."

We spoke. I saw Tyler getting jealous. We both exchanged number phones. Then the sun rose. My friend Lyn and I took Tyler in her car. And I brought back Tyler's bike to his garage. But before we went Tyler made a jealousy crisis. Then Hug asked if he could help with him 'cause in the middle of the crisis he threw up and passed out. We took him in the car. Hug asked if I needed help with the bike, I said no, goodbye and went to Tyler's place.

"Morning princess" was the first text I got this morning, it was from Hug. "Morning darling" was the first thing I heard this morning, it was from Tyler, who was sleeping next to me. He forgot about the crazy party. That was the tenth time he did it to me, it was enough. I just walked away.

Three days later I broke up. Hug and I began to be good friends. We made out once but both were drunk and we regretted, but we still were good friends. One day I kissed a boy at a party and he was mad at me, I didn't understand why but he was actually jealous. So I tried to understand and he explained me at the end of the summer that he was in love with me, so I ended our relationship 'cause I didn't want it to turn like this.

So I went back to school without a new friend and without a boyfriend. All by myself with my best friend Carl.

Love Story

by Luna OMER-VERNY

Once upon a time, a young girl student in a Art school during winter holidays, move out in the city of her childhood. Her name is Hayley, she is a very pretty woman.

Hayley:

It's late in the afternoon, I just came from the Art school where I have applied. I'm gonna go at the "Barry's café", the café of my childhood before everything was okay. Over there, I see a lot of people. When I was young there were not so many people. I don't want to wait too long because I'm gonna be late for the meeting with my new flat-mate. I turn and I accidentally hit a boy and fall.

"Excuse me!"

That's what he say. I know this voice. I don't know where I heard it but... Okay, Hayley stop, you are just crazy. I get up my head and our eyes meet. I see something in his eyes, I just can't say what. After a lot of apologies, I take my car and start driving. I'm late now. I'm going faster but all the cars drive slowly because it's winter time and the floor is ice. In front of me, a big car lose control and slide. The car hit mine. I feel the glass on my skin. And a black hole.

James:

I know this girl. I already saw her, but where? I'm in the car thinking about it. On my right, I see a car crash. I'm a doctor so I have to help people. I see a lot of person trying to get out a girl of the broken car. And I recognize the girl. She has a lot of injuries. She can't wake up... I don't know why but I'm scared for her.

Hayley:

I wake up on a hospital bed. I don't remember of the days before, my head my back and my leg hurt me a lot. I have a lot of injuries. A nurse open the door and I ask how long I slept. She reply one week. I can't believe it, and I'm not sad because I spelt 1 week... But because anyone missed me for a week. But I see flowers on my desk. I ask the nurse why she gives me flowers.

“It’s not me, it’s a man, everyday he come and buy you a bouquet. He is a doctor of the hospital and he took care of you everyday”

Why? She don’t know... I have to know the reasons. The nurse go and I’m alone. Somebody in a doctor dress open the door. I can’t see his face because it is hide by a gigantic flower bouquet.

James:

She is awake. I’m so happy. I see in her eyes that she recognizes me. I know that she wants an explication. When she was sleeping I search information of when I know her face. And I found it. That was the girl who I was in love all my childhood. We were in love al my childhood. We were in love. And she disappeared. I never knew why, I never had some news about her...

Hayley:

He explain to me... and I remember, it was James. The boy with who I was in love and I never forgot. He changed a lot, that’s why I haven’t recognize him. He is really beautiful. More than in my memories. I have to explain why I disappeared like this.

James:

She finally say it. The reason why. Her mom was really sick, and the only remedy was in another country, so her dad moved. But the remedy was really expensive and her dad works more and starts a depression. The remedy doesn’t success. The mom died. Her dad was destroyed completely and he committed suicide. She was alone. And she decided to move here on the country and city of her childhood. I missed her a lot. I’m happy.

They were inseparable for all the time Hayley was in the hospital. Everyday he came with a bouquet and a coffee of “Barry’s café”. Everyday he was waiting one hour for a coffee, for her. After the hospital, they saw each other every day, Hayley after her Art class and James after his job of doctor. Hayley was not going at the meeting with her new flat-mate, so James propose to her to live with him, just because they were “old friends”. But with the time, they fall in love... again.

Improbable Love

by Pauline VAN DIJK & Thomas CASTAINGTS

Mia and Petta are at the airport to take the same plane to go to Biarritz. They sit next to each other in the plane and they don't notice each other.

At destination, Mia and Peta take their bags and go to their respective hotel. In her hotel room, Mia want to take a shower, it was a long trip. She open the bag and looking for her toilet stuff, but! It's not her clothes!

She looks at the number into the bag and dial it. They take a date to get back their bags at the beach. Arrived at the meeting place, Mia was so captivated by Petta's beauty, her radiant smile, her big green eyes and her long brown hair, her presence, her charm... that she couldn't say more than two words. It was love at first sight. When they returned to their hotel, they exchanged some texts and made another date the next day in a nice bar.

After two weeks, they exchange their first kiss, Mia is so happy and Petta looks Mia with sparkling eyes.

They spent the rest of their holidays together.

At the end of the holidays, they have to leave and return at their respective home, but they promise to continue to speak each other. Nothing can reach love at first sight, not even the distance.

The Little Bear Chalet

by Axel WEISS

It's been two weeks that the two childhood friends, Carla and Mike, found themselves. They had not seen each other for nine years and it was in The Little Bear Chalet that they decided to spend the winter holidays.

There was not a lot of snow despite the height of the mountains on which they were, so the two teenagers and the other people in the chalet took the opportunity to organize a ramble of a few hours to a frozen lake.

Once all the preparations were ready, the march began. After 3 miles, Mike was already in pain, he was not at all used to walking so long and even less in the mountains, so Carla stopped to take a break with him. But a few moments later a fog fell on them, and snow began to cover the footprints of other people in the group. Mike thought they had to go back, but after thirty minutes following the footprints they had made to go, the snow had covered everything. So the two friends found a cave to protect themselves, and waited for the storm to pass, but the time was passing and the temperature was falling more and more. Luckily the two bags they were carrying were filled with food and survival tools for the group. Carla lit a fire and they prepared something to sleep in this shelter, because the snow did not stop falling. At nightfall, strange noises prevented them from sleeping, Mike even thought the Bigfoot lived in those mountains, but finally they managed to fall asleep.

In the early morning, the two friends were awakened by a ray of sunshine that crossed the cave, they got up, prepared their stuff to leave, and hardly having set foot outside, they noticed that they were only a few dozen meters from the chalet.

In the end, it was around this hot chocolate that the group met again, telling each other about the journey and promising to meet again in the Little Bear Chalet the following year.
